Who We Are:

This Notice describes the privacy practices of Horizon Health Care, Inc., and the privacy practices of:

- all of our doctors, nurse practitioners, physician assistants, and other health care professionals authorized to enter information about you into your medical chart.
- all of our departments, including, e.g., our medical records and billing departments.
- all of our health center sites.
- all of our employees, staff, volunteers and other personnel who work for us or on our behalf.

Our Pledge:

We understand that health information about you and the health care you receive is personal. We are committed to protecting your personal health information. When you receive treatment and other health care services from us, we create a record of the services that you received. We need this record to provide you with quality care and to comply with legal requirements. This notice applies to all of our records about your care, whether made by our health care professionals or others working in this office, and tells you about the ways in which we may use and disclose your personal health information. This notice also describes your rights with respect to the health information that we keep about you and the obligations that we have when we use and disclose your health information.

We are required by law to:

- make sure that health information that identifies you is kept private in accordance with relevant law.
- give you this notice of our legal duties and privacy practices with respect to your personal health information.
- follow the terms of the notice that is currently in effect for all of your personal health information.

How We May Use and Disclose Your Health Information:

We may use and disclose your personal health information for these purposes:

For Treatment. We may use health information about you to provide you with health care treatment or services. We may disclose health information about you to the doctors, nurses, technicians, medical students and others who are involved in your care. They may work at the Health Center, at the hospital if you are hospitalized under our supervision, or at another doctor's office, lab, pharmacy or other health care provider to whom we may refer you for treatment, consultation, x-rays, lab tests, prescriptions or other health care service.

They may also include doctors and other health care professionals who work at the Health Center, or elsewhere, whom we consult about your care. For example, we may consult with a specialist who lends his/her services to the Health Center about your care or disclose to an emergency room doctor who is treating you for a broken leg that you have diabetes, because diabetes may affect your body's healing process.

For Payment. We may use and disclose health information about you to bill and collect payment from you, your insurance company, including Medicaid and Medicare, or other third party that may be available to reimburse us for some or all of your health care. We may also disclose health information about you to other health care providers or to your health plan so that they can arrange for payment relating to your care. For example, if you have health insurance, we may need to share information about your office visit with your health plan in order for your health plan to pay us or reimburse you for the visit. We may also tell your health plan about treatment that you need to obtain your health plan's prior approval or to determine whether your plan will cover the treatment.

For Health Care Operations. We may use and disclose health information about you for our day-to-day operations, and may disclose information about you to other health care providers involved in your care or to your health plan for use in their day-to-day operations. These uses and disclosures are necessary to run the Health Center and to make sure that all of our patients receive quality care, and to assist other providers and health plans in doing so as well. For example, we may use health information to review the services that we provide and to evaluate the performance of our staff in caring for you. We may also combine health information about our patients with health information from other health care providers to decide what additional services the Health Center should offer, what services are not needed, whether new treatments are effective or to compare how we are doing with others and to see where we can make improvements. We may remove information that identifies you from this set of health information so others may use it to study health care delivery without learning who our patients are.

Appointment Reminders. We may use and disclose health information about you to contact you as a reminder that you have an appointment at the Health Center.

Health-Related Services and Treatment Alternatives. We may use and disclose health information to tell you about health-related services or recommend treatment options or alternatives that may be of interest to you. Please let us know if you do not wish us to contact you with this information, or if you wish to have us use a different address when sending this information to you.

Individuals Involved in Your Care or Payment for Your Care. We may release health information about you to a friend or family member who is involved in your health care or the person who helps pay for your care. We will only disclose medical information that these people need to know. We may also use your medical information to let family members or other responsible people know where you are and what your general medical condition is, or to an entity assisting in disaster relief. If you are able to make your own health care decisions, we will ask your permission before using your medical information for these purposes. If you are unable to make health care decisions, we will disclose relevant medical information to family members or other responsible people if we feel it is in your best interest based on our professional judgment. For example, we may provide limited medical information to allow a family member to pick up a prescription or x-ray for you.

Research. Under certain circumstances, we may use and disclose health information about you for research purposes. For example, a research project may involve comparing the health and recovery of all patients who received one medication to those who received another for the same condition. All research projects, however, are subject to a special approval process which evaluates a proposed research project and its use of health information, trying to balance the research needs with a patient's need for privacy. Before we use or disclose health information for research, the project will have been approved through this special approval process, although we may disclose health information about you to people preparing to conduct a research project. For example, we may help potential researchers look for patients with specific health needs, so long as the health information they review does not leave our facility. We will almost always ask for your specific permission if the researcher will have access to your name, address, or other information that reveals who you are or will be involved in your care.

Organ and Tissue Donation. If you are an organ donor, we may disclose health information about you to organizations that handle organ procurement or organ, eye or tissue transplantation or to an organ donation bank, as necessary to facilitate organ or tissue donation and transplantation.

Fundraising Activities. We may use health information about you to contact you in an effort to raise money for our not-for-profit operations. If you do not want us to send you such information, please contact us at the contact information listed at the end of this Notice. Each fundraising effort will clearly indicate how you can opt-out of future fundraising communications.

Health Information Exchange. We may participate in one or more health information exchanges (HIEs) and may electronically share your health information for treatment, payment and healthcare operations purposes with other participants in HIEs.

A patient's participation in a Health Information Exchange (HIE) is voluntary and subject to a patient's right to opt-out. To learn more, or to exercise your right to opt out, visit <http://www.sdhealthlink.org/opt-out/>.

Health Oversight Activities. We may disclose health information about you to a health oversight agency for activities authorized by law. These oversight activities include, for example, audits, investigations, inspections and licensure. These activities are necessary for the government to monitor the health care system, government programs and compliance with civil rights laws.

Business Associates. We may disclose Health Information to our business associates that perform functions on our behalf or provide us with services if the information is necessary for such functions or services. For example, we may use another company to perform billing services on our behalf. All of our business associates are obligated to protect the privacy of your information and are not allowed to use or disclose any information other than as specified in our contract.

Lawsuits and Disputes. We may disclose health information about you in response to a court or administrative order. We may also disclose health information about you in response to a subpoena, discovery request or other lawful process that is not accompanied by a court or administrative order, but only if efforts have been made to tell you about the request or to obtain an order protecting the information requested.

This right does not include the right to inspect and copy psychotherapy notes, although we may, at your request and on payment of the applicable fee, provide you with a summary of these notes.

To inspect and copy your personal health information, you must submit your request in writing to one of our privacy contact person(s) identified on the first page of this notice. If you request a copy of the information, we may charge a reasonable fee for the copying and mailing costs, and for any other costs associated with your request. We may not charge you a fee if you need the information for a claim for benefits under the Social Security Act or any other state or federal needs based benefit program.

We may deny your request to inspect and copy in certain very limited circumstances. If your request is denied, you may request that the denial be reviewed. We will designate a licensed health care professional to review our decision to deny your request. The person conducting the review will not be the same person who denied your request. You can also request that we do not disclose protected health information to a health plan related to specific services if you have paid for those services out-of-pocket in full.

If it is not feasible for us to comply with your request or if we believe that it will negatively impact our ability to care for you, we are not required to agree to your request for restrictions, except in the case of health plan disclosure for services paid out of pocket in full.
